Can We Commit to Doing Before We Hear What it is?

Can we commit to doing something before we know what it is? Normally I would say no. Certainly speaking for myself, I want to know exactly what's going on before I make any sort of decision. I'm not one to rely on someone's word, no matter how friendly I am with them. If you say let's go on a trip tomorrow, my first question is going to be "where do you want to go?" If you want to borrow money, I'm going to want to know how much and when you're going to pay it back. If you want me to read a book that you highly recommend, I'm not only going to ask the name of the book, but I'm going to look it up on Amazon before I make any commitments to read it!

But that's not how God expected the children of Israel to respond. When Moses first went up on the mountain, God commanded him to tell the Children of Israel that if they accept the covenant, God will make them a "kingdom of priests and a holy nation" (Exodus 19:6). Upon hearing these words, everyone responded, "All that God has said, we will do" (19:8). Later in the narrative, the Children of Israel again said, "All of the things that God has said, we will do" (24:3), at which point Moses wrote down and then read aloud the words of the Torah.

On the face of it, this is a puzzling declaration - that the Israelites first promise to observe the Torah before they even hear what it is. Speaking personally, this is certainly counter to my own instincts, because I like to understand things carefully and investigate it a hundred different ways before I do anything. Just picking out a flavor of ice cream to put on my cone is a research project for me. But here, the Children of Israel make this commitment before they are even told what they are committing to. Can we commit to doing Before we hear what it is?

In the Torah, this expression of commitment - naaseh ve-nishmah - translates "We will do and [then] we will hear" (Exodus 24:7). Many commentators translate the word "hear" as implying "understand." In essence, they leap before they look. In a midrash, Moses questions this approach. After the people made this expression, Moses turned to them and said, "How can you do something if you don't understand it?" (Mekhilta d'Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai 24:7) This makes sense to me because I need to understand what it is before I begin to do it. This midrash continues by explaining that what the Children of Israel meant was not that they would do it before they understand it, but rather that they will do what they understand as they understand it. It shows an enthusiastic willingness to commit to the covenant and an emphasis on dedicating themselves to a common set of behaviors - ritual and otherwise - which is a prerequisite for the creation of a vibrant religious community.

Continued Message From Rabbi Kaplan

The Children of Israel made this perhaps rash, but certainly passionate acceptance of obeying the covenant even before they heard the terms and certainly before they understood fully what it involved. But as with adolescent children who agree to various things before they understand what it is, the Children of Israel likewise found it difficult to follow through on the commitment that they had made. Obligation accepted with the brit was not to be approached lightly and the prophets were often found to be chastising the Children of Israel for not holding up their end of the bargain.

So perhaps my initial hesitation to accept any commitment before I understood exactly what it entailed may have been right after all. If we are going to accept the obligations of Judaism, we need to know what it involves. It's easy to just stand up and cheer and say "we will do what you say," but if we don't really understand what we're agreeing to are we really going to follow through on our commitment?

We're facing unprecedented challenges being a Jew in America. Atlantic magazine had an article several weeks ago saying that this was the end of the golden age of American Judaism. We're shocked by the unprecedented levels of antisemitism and virulent hatred of not only the state of Israel, but of anyone who supports Israel even slightly. So our commitment to not only Judaism, but the Jewish people, carries a great deal of importance in this day and age. We need to think through carefully what that commitment involves and why we feel that it's so important.

NOTES FROM OUR CANTOR

When frightened by a thunderstorm, the von Trapp children in "Sound of Music" are given precise instructions: "Sing about your favorite things and you'll feel better. Well, if one predates that story more than two thousand years and substitutes those children for the children of Israel at the foot of Mount Sinai as it spewed volcanics splendor while Moses presented the Ten Commandments, the song they sang for calming may have been about food. Instead of "raindrops and roses, whiskers on kittens", The former slaves (if they'd been eastern European) would have sung something more like "blintzes and kugel, rugelach and cheesecake"! Thus, Shavuot became one of our three distinct festivals. This one, as remembered by secular Jews as the time when we eat dairy food, fattening or low-cal. However, it is so much more -- not in calories, but in major significance.

Incredibly, Shavuot was originally called, "The Festival of the First Fruits". Its folk songs abound with mysticism that glorify the agricultural event while preserving its once in the world happening. The music, accordingly, is filled with awful wonder that nudges us to pursue our higher selves. Also, the dances, such as "Shibolet Basadeh" (Stalk in the Field), are aural windows to the soul. The giving of the Torah is venerated by "Ashorer shira lichvod ha Torah" (I Shall Sing in Honor of the Torah).

Brazilian singer Micha Gamerman released an animated music video entitled "Shavuot Medley". It captures the spirit of the holiday and may be enjoyed on YouTube.com.

The Israel Forever Foundation has curated a playlist of classic Israeli Shavuot songs celebrating the Land of Israel and the harvest. Their playlist can be explored at Israelforever.org.

Chabad.org offers a collection of beautiful songs related to Shavuot. They reflect themes associated with the holiday and the receiving of the Torah. You can listen to them on their website.

Also, according to tradition, the Book of Ruth is recited during the Shavuot Service. Ruth's moving plea to her mother-in-law, Naomi, "Al tige I le' ozvech". (Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee, Whither Thou Goest) remains a source of inspiration for Jews and, subsequently, Christians as well. For all, the delicious music of this early harvest plants seeds in our psyche to sow the seeds of our yearning for a new crop. Its bounty will offer new wisdom and nourishment that permit us to "open the gates" of righteousness when the next harvest lovingly presents itself after our hard work achieving it. With our harvest and hope fully ripened, we pray to find ourselves in the Book of Life! Music may often supply the subconscious drive which eggs us on in pursuit of our better selves, reaching for the joy of God's love. Thus, our best desserts will be on their way.

Baruch Koritan

MESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

Stephen Bold

As I start my second year as President, I want to appraise you of some plans that are being considered for next year and ask for your help in identifying opportunities for increase spiritually, personal educational improvement and fun activities. We are going to aggressively go after new members and hopefully some young families. My hope is to build off of this increase, with our religious student numbers.

A number of events are being considered for fundraising this next year, such as bringing back the Klezmer band, more lectures on film and TV with Jewish actors, and possibly a Jewish Food Festival. Another way we are increasing our revenue is renting out office space in our building, space for an office has just been rented to a counselor. We are still looking for more tenants, so help spread the word!

All rooms in the temple are being looked at for cleanup and how they should be utilized. Repairs are being undertaken as funds and/or volunteers to help are identified.

My promise to each and every one of you is that your voices matter, your ideas are invaluable, and I will never take your trust for granted. Together, we can build an even stronger, more welcoming congregation that celebrates the cherished gift that all of us have been given – the gift of living a Jewish life.

In times of joy, let us celebrate together. In times of sorrow, let us support one another with open hearts. I look forward to next year meeting our spiritual and financial goals. May God bless our congregation with harmony, prosperity, and a deep sense of fulfillment.

Shalom,
Steve

Help Wanted

The TBS Outreach and the TBS Membership Committees are combining their resources to accomplish a new objective, “In-Reach”. We’ll need additional people to accomplish this objective, so we’re inviting applicants to help us.

Our overall goals are to engage more members in TBS life. For those who have recently joined, we want to introduce them to mentors within the congregation to welcome them and make introductions to the committees in which they’ve expressed potential interest.

For those “quiet” members that are not yet active, and who wish to become more so, we’ll do the same.

If you are interested in helping out, please email Jon Green at JMGreenCPA@gmail.com to set up a call or meeting for more information, and an invitation to a planning meeting.

We are an equal opportunity employer, with great benefits to offer.

Social Opportunity

The mighty TBS Outreach Committee will sponsor a recruiting event for membership in a new club, Arts & Culture. Members of this club will investigate area performance and art show type opportunities , arrange group tours or tickets, pre-event dinners, and after-event discussions. Members of the current TBS Book Club are welcome with no additional cost.

If you are interested in helping us organize and are eager to participate, please contact Jon Green at JMGreenCPA@gmail.com.

SATURDAY SHABBAT SERVICE & POTLUCK BRUNCH

Our Saturday Shabbat Service and Potluck Brunch are taking a hiatus for the summer.

Conservation—Awareness—Resources—Energy

Temple Beth Shalom of the West Valley is partnering with We Care Recycling

We Need Your Support

Temple Beth Shalom of the West Valley is hosting a clothing and shoe recycling bin to help keep textiles out of the landfills!

How it Works:

- 1) Clean out your closets and dressers.
- 2) Place all outgrown clothing and shoes into a bag.
- 3) Bring said bag to Temple Beth Shalom and place it in the blue bin in the parking lot.

It is estimated every human throws over 80 pounds of textiles into the landfill every year! Once in the landfills, natural fibers can take hundreds of years to decompose. Textile recycling has significant challenges—without community awareness and education our future generations will struggle more than ever!

Our clothes recycling programs reduce emissions and provide affordable clothes to people locally and abroad. The mission of our organization is to partner with local businesses, schools, places of worship, and property owners to help keep clothes and shoes out of the landfill and into homes that are in need.

TREE OF LIFE

Consistent with our belief, our Tree of Life on the Lobby wall next to the office commemorates simchas and life cycle events, such as special birthdays, anniversaries, or Bar & Bat Mitzvahs with an engraved leaf. We look forward to members making a contribution to the Temple and honoring their loved ones or commemorating an event by adding a leaf to the tree in their name.

Each leaf is a $200.00 donation to the synagogue. This is a lovely way to commemorate a special milestone for your family and support Temple Beth Shalom.

Many People contribute to the Flower Bouquet & Food Basket Funds “in memory of”, but did you know that you can also contribute to these funds “in honor of” to help someone special celebrate a birthday, anniversary or any other kind of Simcha?

This is Sisterhood’s major fundraiser. We use it to make donations to local food banks, but the major portion is given to our temple whenever a need arises, such as a copier, a computer and new kitchen appliances like a refrigerator and dishwasher. We are always there to help.

Please help by contributing.

INFORMATION FROM YOUR TBS SISTERHOOD PRESIDENT ROZ GOLDSTEIN

On the third Monday of the month, Sisterhood has a luncheon program. Our luncheons are delicious and the programs are always interesting and fun. In October we had a presentation on Breast Cancer Awareness conducted by Mary Gill Savoren, a long time Sisterhood member. In the following months there will be a Chanukah meeting with entertainment and our yearly women's Seder. Further discussion and details to be announced at a later date.

Every month we also help the synagogue pay for our weekly security guard.

Your TBS Sisterhood supports the area Food Bank. Any donations that we receive for Food Baskets or Flower Baskets in memory of someone, or celebration of birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, new babies, etc., are sent to the designated fund the donor chose and to the Valley View Food Bank.

At the end of our fiscal year, we donate a good portion of our funds to the temple operating fund maintaining the synagogue or for new equipment or repairs, especially in the kitchen.

Please join us. If you are a new TBS member, the dues are free for your first year and $30.00 in the years that follow, I'm happy to answer any questions or listen to any suggestions you may have about our group. Please don't ever hesitate to contact me.

We are all from different parts of the country with different and wonderful ideas and it is our communal efforts that make TBS great.

This year we have brand new officers and they are energetically planning for an eventful year.

Contact me (Glen Zelkind) at (303) 514-2895
